

ROOTED

Mystery, Enduring, Natural

It's human instinct to seek the safety of the tribe. In today's complicated world, there's something deeply satisfying about re-exploring the world's oldest, most enduring cultures. African, Aboriginal and Native American influences are converging to create a new tribal style with a drumbeat all its own. The colors are rich and earthy, with a hint of mystery. The appeal is as natural as the elements.

ELEMENTS

- Animal prints and skins
- Bone, feather and fringe accents
- Ombré, tie-dye and ethnic patterns
- Hammered finishes
- African and Native American influences
